The Sacramento City Unified School District's Acceptable Use Policy for Technology Services can be read in full on the SCUSD website or in the Parents Rights and Responsibilities document. Students will use technology in the classroom to enhance their learning and it will be used for school-related activities, projects, and research.

Students are expected to do the following:

- Visit websites directly related to their teacher's assignments.
- Create internet searches that are appropriate to their grade level assignments.
- Be respectful of technology equipment in the classroom and at the school site.
- Maintain the default settings for the computer control panels and desktops, unless given permission by their teacher to make changes.

Students who violate this policy will have their computer and/or internet privileges revoked. Use of school computers and access to the internet is a privilege. Parents may be liable for damages to equipment.
